

Agora II: (Un)common Precedents

September 22-24, 2023

Program

Among the leaves bright green of wrist-thin tree and old stiff broken branch ferocious swaying loosely strung come May again white blossom clusters hide to spill their sweets almost unnoticed down and quicklv

Georgette repris sa marche à travers Paris et la nuit confondu. Elle avançait, écartant la tristesse, la solitude ou l'angoisse. C'est à cette heure surtout qu'apparut son étrange pouvoir: celui de transfigurer la nuit. Grâce à elle qui n'était qu'une des cent mille, Le toit Eiffel devenait plus vivante que moi. Je savais depuis longtemps, que de le considérer à ses pieds la rendait métallique et architecturale, que de l'apercevoir de très loins la faisais symbolique et qu'elle changeait d'aspect et de caractère selon qu'on l'admirait de Pantin ou de Grenelle, de Montmartre ou du Point-du-Jour.

Je m'amusais, à l'aide de ma mémoire, à en varier indéfiniment la silhouette, comme si je l'examinais à travers un kaléidoscope.

The apparition of these faces in the crowd : Petals on a wet, black bough .

the model of a different Fedoras. These are the forms the city could have taken if, for one reason or another, it had not become what we see today. In every age someone, looking at Fedora as it was, imagined a way of making it the ideal city, but while he constructed his miniature model, Fedora was already no longer the same as before, and what had been until yesterday a possible future became only a toy in a glass globe.

"Cosmopoiesis as an act of worldmaking always starts from worlds already in existence and the making is a remaking."
